NostalgiaZ is an American Internet television and satellite television network scheduled to launch on August 1, 2025. The channel is dedicated to children's television, retro internet culture, and classic digital media from the 2000s and 2010s. It combines archived content, original productions, and fan-submitted creations, including remixed videos from the YouTube Poop (YTP) community.

NostalgiaZ
Country of origin	United States
Original language	English

Broadcasting worldwide via internet platforms and on satellite via Nilesat for Middle Eastern and North African audiences, NostalgiaZ appeals to Millennials and Gen Z viewers who grew up during the early digital age.

Overview

NostalgiaZ was created to preserve and reintroduce digital and television content from the early 21st century. It focuses on the crossover between traditional children's TV, early Microsoft-driven media, and the golden years of platforms like YouTube and Newgrounds.

The channel's programming includes:

- Reruns of 2000s–2010s children's shows
- Curated YouTube-era internet content
- Educational games and media from Microsoft's youth software
- Classic bumpers, advertisements, and logos
- Community-created remixes, including family-friendly YTPs

History

NostalgiaZ was developed in 2023 by a team of digital media archivists, tech historians, and retro content creators. As the interest in 2000s nostalgia grew across platforms like TikTok, Discord, and Reddit, the project gained traction as a digital time capsule.

By 2024, the network secured broadcasting rights for selected classic programming and partnered with regional distributors. Its broadcast through Nilesat was finalized in early 2025, allowing for wide satellite distribution across North Africa and the Middle East.

The official launch date of August 1, 2025, includes a 24-hour global premiere event: “Back to the Net: 2000s Rebooted”—a special block that features retro VJs, vintage network promos, old-school game showcases, and curated YouTube Poops.

Programming

Programming is divided into several nostalgic categories:

- Kids Rewind – Animated and live-action shows from the 2000s and early 2010s.
- Microsoft Archives – Rare and forgotten Microsoft media for children, including Microsoft Kids, ActiMates, and Plus! for Kids.
- YTP Vault – Clean, curated YouTube Poops and remix videos, featuring characters like SpongeBob, Mario, and Windows-era mascots.
- Internet Time Machine – A collection of early Flash animations, viral videos, and archived websites.
- Ad Break Rewinds – Commercials and network promos aired during classic kids' blocks.
- Fan Remix Hour – User-submitted mashups, edits, and mini-documentaries.

Technology and Distribution

NostalgiaZ is available through:

- IPTV services in the United States and Canada
- Streaming apps on Roku, Apple TV, Android TV, and Smart TVs
- Satellite broadcast via Nilesat – Frequency: 11823 H / Symbol Rate: 27500 / FEC: 5/6
- Direct live stream and video-on-demand (VOD) on nostalgiaz.tv (<https://nostalgiaz.tv>)

Reception

Prior to launch, NostalgiaZ received positive coverage from retro content blogs, tech nostalgia forums, and YouTube creators. The project is seen as a unique attempt to archive and celebrate the transitional period between analog and digital entertainment, particularly for younger audiences raised on early web content.
